Num. 355

MONDAY, AUGUST 16. 1736.

N^o. 355.

Yesterday last arrived a Mail from Holland, and Yesterday one from Flanders and another from France.

Petersburg, July 20. O. S.

It is now certain that Thomas Kouli Kan has ascended the Throne of Persia by the Name of Schach Nadyr: And Chulesa Mirfa Cassi, to whom it was notify'd by Ali Bec, a Daghestan Lord, who was sent to him for the Purpose, has had a second publick Audience of the Czarina, and after delivering her a Letter from the Schach Nadyr, he harrangu'd her as follows.

Most Serene and most Potent Sovereign, Empress and Sole Monarch of all the Russians.

YOUR Imperial Majesty who equals the Deity and the Moon in Power and Happiness, who has as many Soldiers as there are Stars in the Firmament, who are adorned with a Crown as radiant as the Sun, and whose Reign, God grant, may be long and prosperous, now receives a long Letter from a great Lord, whose Reputation is not inferior to that of Feridon and of Alexander the Great, viz. from the Great Kagan, the Sultan Nadyr Ali Bagatyr Can, Sovereign of the Kingdom of Persia, whose Days may the Heavens bless and multiply, to notify to your Imperial Majesty his Accession to the Throne of Persia, and to assure you of the Value he puts upon your Imperial Majesty's incomparable Friendship and Alliance, and his with a View to the said Friendship and Alliance, that he has sent me this Letter by Ali-Bec a Daghestan Nobleman, to be put into the Hands of your Imperial Majesty.

But it being not convenient that I should trouble your Majesty with a needless Repetition of the Contents of the said Letter, I only most humbly entreat you to order your trusty Ministers, when your heavenly Eyes have glanc'd it over, to return an Answer to me with Dispatch, that I may send it to the sublime Court of my Master.

To this Speech the Prince Czerkaskoi, a Member of the Privy Council made Answer, by her Majesty's order, as follows;

It is a very great Pleasure and Satisfaction to her Imperial Majesty, to hear of the Accession of Schach Nadyr to the renounced Throne of Persia. She rejoices at it, and thereupon most heartily congratulates his Schachian Majesty, wishing that God may grant him a lasting Reign, and crown him at the same Time, with all the Happiness imaginable for the Advantage and Aggrandisement of the Kingdom of Persia; and as her Imperial Majesty always had a very great Esteem for the Schach Nadyr, by reason of his Valour and his great Exploits for the Preservation of Persia, so she shall for the Future think it incumbent on her, never to alter her Sentiments with Regard to him, but will continue to assist him as she does at present, for the Glory of his Schachian Majesty, the Establishment of his Throne, and the Prosperity of his whole Kingdom. Of this her Imperial Majesty will give him the strongest Assurances in the Answer she intends to write to him.

The Court has received the bad News from Moscow, that a great Fire happened there the Beginning of this Month, which burn'd down 2000 Houses; which Accident has disconcerted the Preparations that were making for the publick Rejoicings for the King of Asoph, and the Advantages gain'd over the Tartars. 'Tis believ'd, that the War against the Turks will not be of long Duration, if it be true, 'tis affirmed, that the Grand Vizier has the necessary Powers to treat of a Peace with the Russian, if he can do it upon Terms that are not dishonourable.

By a particular List made Publick, it appears that he had but 480 Men killed at the Siege of Asoph and 700 wounded, besides the Sick who are computed at 3000. Certain private Letters from that City we hear, that after the Bashaw who commanded there, marched out and saw the Russian Army, he seem'd in a very great Surprise, and therefore said to the Velt Marshal de Laszy, that he could not imagine how 'twas possible to surround such a Place as Asoph with so mean an Army, and much less that he should presume to undertake the Siege of it; adding, that he was indeed inform'd by a Spy, that there was but a small Number of the Besiegers; but that he was so far from believing the Report, that he hang'd him, because he thought he had been corrupted by the Russians to decoy him to make a Salley with his Garison, on purpose that they might fall a Prey to their Enemies.

One Belmain, a Frenchman, who has been at Constantinople, where he turned Turk and list'd under the Count de Bonneval, having taken some Disgust at the Turks is retir'd hither, has thrown off their Religion, and reconciled himself to the Christian, and laid a Scheme before the Court for attacking the Turks with Success; which has been approved of, and the Empress has, in consideration of it, made him a Major in her Troops.

The Czarina has made a Present of 4000 Rubles to the Count Poninski, who was sent hither by the King of Poland, with the News of the happy Issue of the General Dyet of Pacification held at Warsaw.

The Court has received Advice from the Prince of Hesse Hombourg, that when he heard the Tartars, after being routed near Precop, were rallying their broken Army, and marching towards the Danube, to join the Grand Vizier's Army, which has already pass'd that River, he thought fit to assemble all the Czarina's Regular Forces that were posted along the Ukraine into one Body, and to reinforce them with a Body of Cossacks, so as to form an Army of 50,000 Men. The Prince has sent Word of it to the Generals Munich and Laszy, that they may be in a Condition to support him. If those 3 Generals are not already joined, 'tis suppos'd they will come together time enough to oppose the Designs of the Grand Vizier, who 'tis believ'd cannot reach Bender (where the general Rendezvous is to be) till about the Middle of August, because of the heavy Artillery, &c. in his Train.

P. S. An Express is just arriv'd from Count Munich, who is gone by for the Court at Petershoff, with News which 'tis said is very favourable.

Milan, July 25. O. S. The Marshal de Noailles, and the Count de Khevenhuller, have settled every thing now for the Evacuation of this Duchy; and the nine Millions that were demanded of this State as Arrears for Contributions, have been abated to two Millions 500,000 Livres; but the Term for the said Evacuation, will not be fix'd till the Return of the Expresses which those Generals have sent to Paris and Vienna, with the Result of their Conferences. The Possession of the Fiefs of the Langhes with which the King of Sardinia is to be invest'd, gives Umbrage to the Genoeze who are afraid it will prejudice their Trade with this City, and that the King of Sardinia will lay great Duties on such Goods as they shall send hither or that shall pass this Way. Those Fiefs are 63 in Number, and were heretofore possess'd by certain Genoeze Lords, to whom the Emperors used to grant Investitures, which were confirm'd by the Dyet of the Empire. Mean time the King of Sardinia has begun to evacuate the Pichitone, but the French Troops will not evacuate Italy, till the King of Sardinia is actually put in Possession of the above-mentioned Fiefs.

Genoa, July 28. O. S. We hear from Corsica, that there has been an Action between the Genoeze and the Rebels, wherein the latter, after having manfully stood a continual Fire of eight Hours, received a Reinforcement in the very Nick of Time, oblig'd the Genoeze, who were above 1000 in Number, to retire with very great Loss.

Ratisbon, Aug. 2. O. S. The States General have returned a very favourable Answer to the Letter which was sent them from the Protestant Body at the Dyet, concerning the Revocation of the 4th Article of the Treaty of Ryswic. In this Answer, 'Their High Mightinesses applaud the Zeal of the Protestant States of the Empire for the Interests of their Religion. They think it very fitting, that the necessary Representations should be made for revoking a Clause so disadvantageous as that of the Treaty of Ryswic, and for re-establishing Religious Affairs on the Foot of the Treaty of Westphalia.

They declare, that they shall be ready at all Times to contribute their utmost to the Advantage of the Protestant States, and that they could not propose any Thing more agreeable to them, than to give them an Opportunity of verifying their Sentiments on that Head. They affirm, that if it had been in their Power, they wou'd never have suffered such a Clause to have been foisted into the Treaties, because the Grievances that have followed upon it are but too notorious. They add, that they have sent Instructions to their Ministers both at Vienna and Paris, not only to solicit the Revocation of the said Clause, but to obtain Assurances that it shall never be compris'd in any Treaty hereafter. They conclude with their Hopes of good Success in this Affair, by reason of the Declaration which the Emperor made in 1734. and because of the Stipulation made with Regard to the Court of France in the 33d Article of the Treaty of Utrecht.

Berlin, Aug. 1. The King who returned four Days ago from his Journey to Prussia, designs to go in Person to survey the Damages done by the overflowing of the Oder, which are said to be very considerable. As fast as the Waters retire to the Channel they leave a nasty Stench behind, which, 'tis feared, will breed an Epidemical Sickness, if not a Mortality among the Cattle. The Trees which those Waters have touch'd seem to be perfectly blasted, and many of them wither as they stand.

Our Letters from Scarborough mention a very great Concourse of Nobility and Gentry in that Place. The Weather has been, during the whole Season, so exceeding Pleasant, that a Set of Gentlemen were a few Days ago tempted to make a Ball in the Sea, and were accordingly attended into it by Violins, Trumpets, and a proper Number of Waiters. After Minuets, the Company fell to Country Dancing, during the Intervals of which, Refreshments were handed about in great Plenty to all that were present, and the Ball concluded. The Gentlemen attended their Partners to the Spaw, and after a few Turns there, to the long Room, where a magnificent Breakfast was prepared for them, and the whole was conducted with the greatest Decency and Order.

Advertisment concerning this Book.

This Masterpiece of religious Policy was published, many Years since, in Latin, French, and Dutch: Mr. John Schipper, a Bookseller at Amsterdam, bought one of them at Auction among other Books, and afterwards reprinted it. The Jewish being informed that he had purchased this Book, demanded back from him; but he had then sent it to Holland. One of the Society, who lived at Amsterdam, hearing it said, sent after, to a Catholick Bookseller, by Name Van Eyck, the Schipper was printing a Book which concerned the Jewish, replied, that if it was only The Rules of the Society, he need not be under any Concern; but desired he would inform himself what it was. Being told by the Bookseller, that it was The Secret Instructions of the Society, the good Father, hanging up his Shoulders, and knitting his Brow, said, that he saw no other Remedy but denying that this Piece came from the Society. The Reverend Fathers however thought it not advisable to purchase the whole Edition, which they had after did, some few Copies excepted; from one of these it was afterwards reprinted, with this Account prefixed; which there said to be taken from two Roman Catholicks, without Credit.
